

IN MEMORIAM

Keith D. Ross
Class of 1971

The Florida Times Union

Keith Ross died on September 3, 2010. His life was defined by his wide interests and long-term relationships. Whether he was sailing the Caribbean, climbing the Great Wall, or traveling through literature in his arm chair, Keith explored the world. He shared his knowledge and experiences generously with his students and his friends here and abroad. He was a devoted son who cared for his mother until her death. His independent spirit sustained him as he dealt with the challenges of his recent illness. He never lost his acerbic wit and appreciation of life's absurdities. He is survived by the hundreds of students whose lives he touched as mentor, teacher, and coach and the friends and cats he loved. Honor his memory by adopting a homeless animal, forgiving an old transgression, and enjoying life to the fullest.
